Facilities

The factory of The American Wringer Company is among the largest in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of wringing machines and rubber rolls. It is located convenient to the ports of New York and Boston. It has direct rail connections with these and other Atlantic seaports. Prompt shipments are thus assured.

Other Brands

The brands illustrated are the most popular of the Company's many styles of wringing machines and are in greatest demand. Other patterns and brands are also made, including wringers with larger rubber rolls.

Rubber Rolls

The American Wringer Company makes rubber rolls for paper mills, tanneries, bleacheries and, in fact, for all industries requiring them. They are made either standard or to special specifications. Customers will greatly assist our engineers, when writing for information or quotations, by giving, as much as possible, the information called for by letters in Fig. 6.

Catalogues

Complete catalogues of the Company's products will be sent on request.
